

From the Pastor

In the last sermon we read Luke 18:8. The last sentence in that verse records Jesus' words "Nevertheless, when the Son of Man comes, will He really find faith on the earth?" That is a sobering statement. Faith is a vital quality we all must be growing in.

We read in Hebrews 11:6, "But without faith it is impossible to please Him, for he who comes to God must believe that He is, and that He is a rewarder of those who diligently seek Him."

Do we know God well enough to know that we can truly trust in His promises? Abraham had faith because he knew God. He knew that what God had promised He would do. Paul spoke of Abraham's faith in Romans 4:20-21, "He did not waver at the promise of God through unbelief, but was strengthened in faith, giving glory to God, and being fully convinced that what He had promised He was also able to perform."

Faith is based on (founded on) two things— (1) God's promises and (2) truly knowing God. Faith grows as we see God doing what He has promised in our lives—how He works all things out for good in our trials as we stay committed to loving Him by obeying Him (Romans 8:28; 1 John 5:3).

The trials we face in this life are small tests (quizzes) to help prepare us for the major test that is coming—when we will really need to trust in God's promises—to be able to see God's hand in our lives. If we don't handle well the trials we face today, how will we handle the huge trials we will face before Jesus returns?

Jeremiah 12:5 gives a sobering warning. The first half of the verse reads, "If you have run with the footmen, and they have wearied you, then how can you contend with horses?"

Running against other human beings is a normal expectation. But, if we cannot cope with running with other men, how will we manage when we are asked to run against horses? I.E. if we don't have faith in God to help us with the trials we face now, how will we have faith in God to help us with the great trials of the future?

Faith in God grows as we obey Him from our heart and see that He will always answer our prayers according to His will and promises—just as Abraham saw God's faithfulness.
